NO THANKSGIVING IN GAY SING SING FOR THIS BURGLAR

Tried Hard to Break In, but Judge Decides Tombs
Menu Must Do.

George Whalen, burglar, and inmate of prisons for about twenty-five years of his life, stepped smilingly before Judge Wadhams in the Court of General Sessions this morning and in apparent happiness waited to be sentenced to Sing Sing in time for the Thanksgiving dinner there. He smashed a window at No. 234 Bowery a few weeks ago and then let a policeman catch him with a few articles he had taken, so he would be sure to get to jail in time.

Without wasting any time Whalen pleaded guilty and asked to be sentenced immediately. Judge Wadhams knew that he had told the police of his desire to go up and meet Warden Osborne on Thanksgiving Day and he decided Whalen's desire was not a commendable one, so he remanded him to be sentenced next Friday, when the last of the Thanksgiving celebrations is over at Sing Sing. Whalen lost his smile and went back to the Tombs in sorrow.

Court attaches had estimated for the Judge that in the twenty-five years Whalen has spent in prison the State has spent $1,500 for his keep. In addition it has cost in transportation and legal expenses of his trials another $12,500, so his eleven terms in jail have meant an added cost to the commonwealth of $20,000.

"How much did you make out of your crimes?" Judge Wadhams asked him.

"About $500," Whalen said, "but I haven't been a burglar for money, it seems, it's because I can't help it. I can't keep out of jail."

PLUCKY GIRL ARRESTS PICKPOCKET ON "L"

Miss Menendez Recovers Her Purse and Then Drags Prisoner Two Blocks to a Policeman.

Miss Mary Menendez is a plucky little dreammaker of No. 1977 East Fourteenth Street, Brooklyn, who not only caught the man who stole her pocketbook and made him give it up, but dragged her fighting prisoner down a flight of elevated railroad stairs and for two blocks until she found a policeman, because the men she asked to aid her refused. The prisoner, Harry Levine, twenty-four years old, of No. 42 Essex Street, pleaded guilty to the larceny in Yorkville Police Court to-day and was held in $1,500 bail for the Grand Jury.

Levine jostled Miss Menendez last night on the Forty-second Street station of the Third Avenue elevated road. She looked at her handbag, which she found open. Her pocketbook, with $3.87 in it, was gone. She ran after Levine, who was nattering from the platform, caught him, demanded the return of her property. Levine immediately took the pocketbook out and returned it. Then Miss Menendez seized him.

After the men on the platform refused to help her, she dragged Levine, fighting all the way, to Forty-fourth Street and Third Avenue, where she found Motorcycle Policeman Michael Downs of the Wakefield Station, who relieved her of her charge.

Famous Curling Match Off.

MONTREAL, Nov. 19.—Announcement was made to-day that it has been decided to call off the Gordon International Curling Medal match this winter in view of the present war conditions. This has been an annual event between curlers from the United States and Canada, and the match has alternated between the two countries. Last winter it was held in Utica, N. Y., and it would be the turn of the Canadian curlers to play at home this winter.

CLERGYMAN ADMITS ANNOYING GIRL IN CAR

The Rev. Richard H. Keep Pleads Guilty to Her Charge and Seeks to Obtain Leniency.

The Rev. Richard H. Keep, the Swedenborgian clergyman arrested for annoying Florence Lennon, fifteen years old, in a Brooklyn street car, to-day changed his plea of not guilty to one of guilty when arraigned before Justice Karnochan, McInterny and Garvin of the Court of Special Sessions, Brooklyn. Upon request of his counsel, Francis X. Carmody, disposition of the case was put off for a week in order that Keep might gather and present certain information to the court. Meanwhile the probation officer of the court will continue his investigation of the clergyman's deportment.

Assistant District Attorney Cooper objected to the postponement of action in the case and when the court asked whether he had any evidence of the past conduct of Keep, called Sergeant M. Ris, superintendent of the Law and Order Association, who had acted as detective for an association of theatrical managers in New York. He testified he had found Keep was annoying young girls in New York theatres and that Keep promised to stop it and report at Ris's office every month. Ris told the court Keep had confessed annoying the Lennon girl.

EXPLAINING A FINE.

(From the Florida Times-Union.)
"I was just reading about a man who was fined $2.50 for beating his wife and $10 for beating his mule; that's an outrage."

WIRELESS PHONES NOW FOR CARS AND AUTOS

Two Swedish Officers Invent Apparatus Which May Revolutionize Train Running.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—A Stockholm despatch to the Evening Post reads: "An invention of two Swedish army officers consists of a simply constructed apparatus by means of which wireless telephonic messages may be despatched from trains or automobiles traveling at high speed. In one instance messages were intelligibly received from a distance of 74½ miles. Experts declare that this invention will practically revolutionize the present railway signal system."

HER TRUNKS HELD FOR DUTY.

Customs Men Say Mrs. Warren Underestimated Value.

Three trunks brought from Europe by Mrs. Whitney Warren, wife of an architect, of No. 17 East Forty-seventh Street, were under examination at the Appraisers' Stores to-day. They were seized from Mrs. Warren because the customs inspectors who met the Espangne, on which Mrs. Warren came from Havre yesterday believed Mrs. Warren's declaration that the hats and gowns they contained were worth $1,500 was about $5,200 out of the way.

It was understood at the Barge Office that Mrs. Warren had been very frank in acknowledging she may have made a big mistake in setting a value on the contents of the trunks, and in view of this she might be allowed to amend her declaration and have the things on payment of an adequate duty. There are precedents for such a course, though it is unusual.

BATTLE OVER THE KAISER.

Seven Persons Badly Hurt at a Stanton Street Saloon.

Adolph Zucker, who has a saloon at No. 39 Stanton Street, though he advertises Bavarian beer, caters almost exclusively to Russians. A number of his regular customers found three strangers at the bar to-day exalting the Kaiser. Instant debate arose and spread into the lunchroom in the rear and was continued with chairs, dishes and table legs. Three policemen, Sheehy, Shurt and Plunkitt were sent, at the urgent suggestion of neighbors, and after a sharp battle made seven prisoners of whom most were wounded severely enough to need the attention of a Government Hospital surgeon. The police hoped to make correct returns of the names of the prisoners and the injured before midnight.

Boy, Run Over, to Get $18,000.
Nathan Klein, fifteen years old, who was run over by an American Express Company truck on Aug. 31, 1914, was awarded $18,000 damages in the Supreme Court yesterday. The attorneys for the company agreed to the verdict, hence the boy will receive the money without delay. As a result of the accident one of Klein's legs is four inches shorter than the other.
